The Roaring '20s

America in the early 1920s was an exciting place in a time when legends were forged in the fire of American media. In 1929, one of these legends formed his first animation company in Kansas City, Missouri. Its founder, Walter Elias Disney, believed that he could bring joy and wonder to the faces of families across the globe. After a period of trial and error, Walt joined brotherhood in California where, together, they launched "The Walt Disney Company" in 1923.

Okay, now what?

...all about dreaming up the
...ated star who would lead the Disney
... Company forward.
